Soviet To Push U.N. 'Troika' Campaign

Adlai Calls For Interim Secretary

Battle Lines Drawn
As Assembly Opens
Sixteenth Session

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union joined 98 other U.N. delegations Tuesday in a standing tribute to Dag Hammarskjold—then made clear it would keep up its fight for a three-man board to replace him.

"Any one person would not be good," said Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. He thus turned down a Western-supported move to name an interim secretary-general to fill temporarily the gap left by the death of Hammarskjold in an African plane crash.

Informed of the Soviet position, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson declared the United Nations must choose an interim secretary-general. Mongi Slim of Tunisia has been mentioned for such a post.

Thus battle lines were drawn between the United States and the Soviet Union on the opening day of the 16th General Assembly on an issue that posed a threat to the very existence of the U.N. organization.

The assembly opened its 16th session at 3:22 p.m. and observed the usual minute of prayer or silent meditation.

Minute Of Silence For Dag

Then Ambassador Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, the assembly president, proposed that the delegates observe a minute of silence in memory to Hammarskjold.

He said the assembly was meeting "in the shadow of an immense tragedy, in the midst of deep and heartfelt mourning which extends far beyond the walls of this chamber to millions of men and women throughout the world."

Four minutes after the opening the assembly adjourned until 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, when it will elect Slim as president of the 16th session.

Reporters met Gromyko as he came out of the big blue and gold assembly hall and fired questions at him.

Quickly he made clear that the Soviet Union would maintain its troika campaign for a three-man board to replace the single post of secretary-general. One would represent the Western, one the Communist and one the neutral nations, each with the right of veto.

"We must have three secretaries-general," he said in sticking to the plan presented to the assembly last year by Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

Soviet Raises Chinese Issue

As to the suggestion that Slim might be named to serve as a kind of interim secretary-general, he replied, "We hold to the principle position on this matter that no one person would not be good."

He acknowledged that amendment of the U.N. Charter was required to change the U.N. executive machinery, and said that this would be impossible without admission of Communist China. He said charter amendment requires agreement of all five permanent members of the Security Council—and (Communist) China rightly is one of the five."

He predicted that the problem of Chinese representation "can be solved quickly."

Earlier the Soviet Union formally proposed that the assembly take up the Chinese representation issue. New Zealand, with the support of the United States, however, wants the assembly to name a committee that would study the entire matter and report back next year.

Army Calls 73,000 More To Active Duty

Texas, Wis. Guard Divisions Summoned

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army summoned another 73,000 Reservists and National Guardsmen to active duty Tuesday, ordering them to report Oct. 15.

The call-up went to two National Guard divisions—the 32nd Infantry of Wisconsin and the 49th Armored of Texas—and to 249 Reserve and Guard supporting units. The 32nd will train at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and the 49th at Ft. Polk, La.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, announcing the new call-up at a news conference, described it as another readiness measure in the light of world conditions. Asked if it indicated a worsening of the Berlin situation, he replied: "No, I think not."

There has been speculation that when these and other previously alerted divisions were called up it would mean the United States planned to send more regular divisions to Europe. But McNamara said, "No decision has been made to send Army divisions to Europe."

Five U.S. infantry and armored divisions are now in West Germany and a garrison force of 6,500 is in West Berlin. McNamara noted that the addition of the 32nd and the 49th would give the United States 10 combat-ready divisions in this country by the latter part of this year. "These divisions will be available as part of our strategic reserve for movement to any part of the world, including Europe," he said.

The mustering of the additional Army units comes almost on the heels of orders sent to 79,931 other Reservists and Guardsmen by the Army, Navy and Air Force to report to duty next month. The total now summoned is about 153,000 — mostly Army — of the 250,000 which Congress has authorized President Kennedy to call-up in the present emergency.

McNamara noted that two other Guard divisions, the 26th Infantry of Massachusetts and the 28th Infantry of Pennsylvania, have been alerted and placed on a priority status. Whether they also will be called up, he said, depends on world conditions. If conditions improve, the secretary said, the Wisconsin and Texas divisions may not have to stay in the full 12 months — the limit Congress placed on this type of Reserve emergency duty.

GM's four other divisions may be back in partial production even before the union council meeting. They are Chevrolet, Pontiac, Buick and Cadillac.

The Buick-Oldsmobile-Pontiac assembly plant at Linden, N.J., employing 3,299, settled local issues Tuesday. Five other plants were expected to fall in line soon. They are at Arlington, Tex.; Atlanta, Ga.; Kansas City, Mo.; Southgate, Calif., and Wilmington, Del.

Boy Scout, 11, Captured After Kidnaping Texan

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—An 11-year-old boy, who belonged to the Boy Scouts and made A's in the sixth grade, kidnaped a 40-year-old man at the point of a shotgun Tuesday and ordered him to drive to Mexico in a truck.

The boy is Ronnie Stanford; the man he kidnaped is Alton Compton. Forty miles west of Fort Worth, while Ronnie was glancing at a passing car, Compton jammed his fingers behind the trigger of the shotgun and stopped the truck.

Ronnie could not pull the trigger, so he jumped out and ran. Sheriff Coy Carter of Parker County later captured him on the banks of the Brazos River.

Carter said Ronnie told him he wanted to go to Mexico and had planned to kidnap Compton for about a week. He left his Boy Scout manual with a highway map in it in the Compton family hardware store.

"He said he had seen a lot of things like this on TV," Carter said. "I got the idea he just wanted to impress somebody."

Ronnie, a clean-cut blond boy, rode eight miles from Arlington, Tex., where he lives, to the scene of the crime in Fort Worth on his bicycle.

He told Fran C. Compton, 69, father of the man he kidnaped, that his teacher in Blanton elementary school had assigned him to write a theme on hardware stores. He told Compton he wanted to look around and get material for his theme. Compton told him to go ahead.

The elder Compton went to the bank and when he returned, he found Ronnie holding a .410-gauge shotgun, stolen from the store, on Alton Compton, his son.

Ronnie told Alton to head for the store's green delivery truck, parked behind the store, and start driving west. He slapped his pocket and said, "I've got plenty more ammunition."

Tshombe, UN Official Open Truce Talks

Experts Discount
Speculation Dag's
Plane Sabotaged

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — A Tunisian U.N. official took Dag Hammarskjold's vacant chair and opened truce talks with Katanga President Moise Tshombe Tuesday.

The role of head negotiator for the United Nations fell to Mahmoud Khari, chief of civil operations in the Congo.

A probe of the plane crash that killed the secretary-general and 14 of his 15 companions paralleled the delayed negotiations.

Expert opinion tended to discount speculation that Hammarskjold's four-engine DC6B might have been felled by sabotage or Katanga gunfire.

Power Failure Possibility

Veteran pilots who viewed the fire-blackened wreckage in a forest reserve north of this neutral copper mining center said the crash appeared typical of the results of a power failure or faulty instrumentation.

Lt. Col. Ben Matlick, U.S. air attaché in Leopoldville, was one who inspected the wreck. He said he is convinced talk that a Katanga jet shot down the plane is groundless.

"There's absolutely nothing in it," Matlick said.

There was no elaboration of a report by the lone survivor—Harold M. Harry Julien, 36, American U.N. security guard—that a series of explosions shook the plane before it plunged into the forest.

Badly burned and only semi-conscious when he was pulled from the wreckage, Julien was reported to be as comfortable as could be expected in a hospital, but not in condition for questioning.

16, Not 14, Aboard

The bodies of Hammarskjold and the other victims awaited further post-mortem examination.

Col. Bjorn Egge, U.N. intelligence chief, said a surgeon has been flown in to establish exactly how they died—whether in the air or on the ground.

The recovery of the last two bodies momentarily puzzled authorities here, for that showed 16 persons were aboard.

The U.N. office in Leopoldville had listed only 14, but a check disclosed its list had omitted two security guards, both young Swedes.

Red Viet Nam Push Indicated

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The rebel attack on the provincial capital of Phuoc Thanh raised the possibility Tuesday that Communist forces are opening a major assault against the government in South Viet Nam's civil war.

A series of attacks around the country in the past few days was climaxed when hundreds of Communist Viet Cong rebels seized and burned Phuoc Thanh early Monday.

It was the first assault on a provincial capital and the most daring rebel raid of the war. The city is only 60 miles north of this capital.

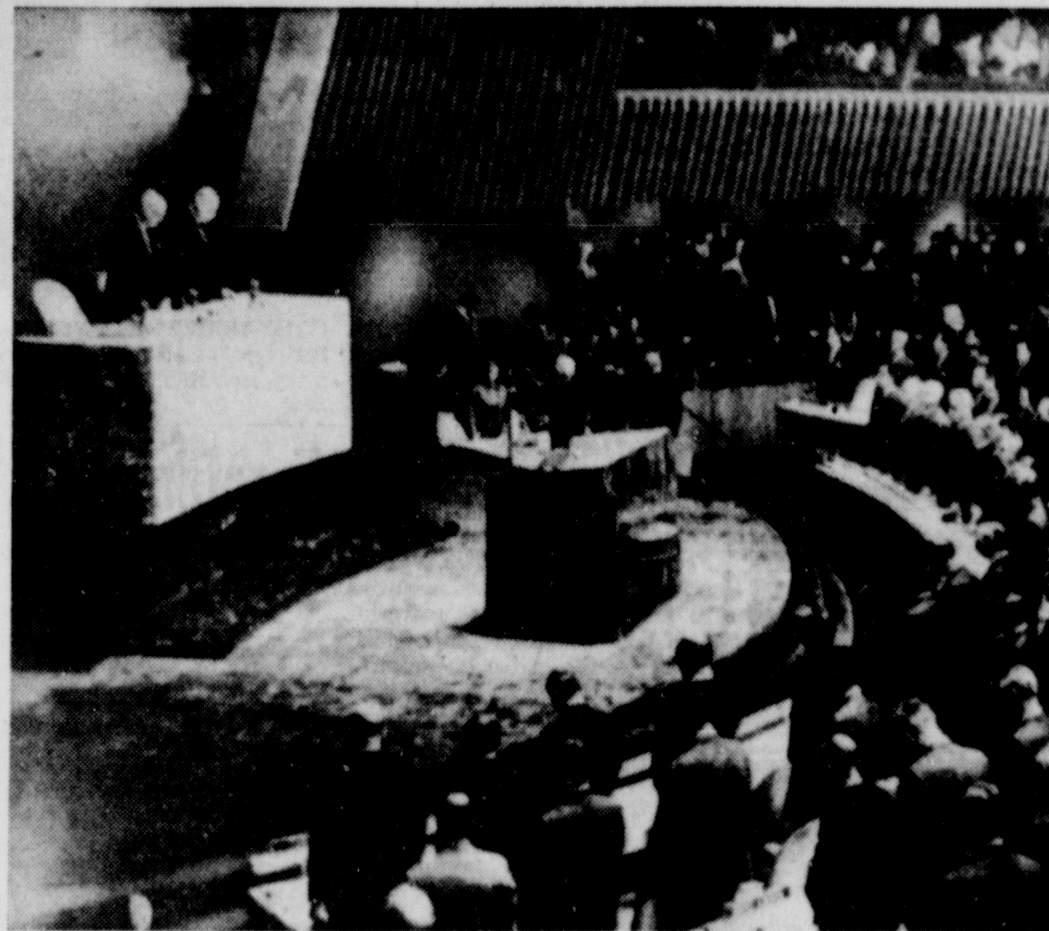

Some observers fear the action may open a long-expected assault of major proportions. The rebels have been building up their strength with reinforcements from Communist North Viet Nam in recent months.

The province chief, an army major, and a number of his military and civil aides were headed at Phuoc Thanh. Several dozen defending civil guardsmen were killed. About 50 wounded were rushed back to Saigon.

Satellite, Capsule Fail To Separate

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Air Force failed Tuesday in an attempt to recover a gold-plated capsule loaded with valuable space radiation experiments from Discoverer XXXI when the capsule did not separate over the North Pole.

The satellite and capsule remained in orbit, circling the earth every 90 minutes.

Rusk, Gromyko Plan Berlin, U.N. Talks Thursday

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will meet Thursday afternoon to discuss the Berlin crisis and the crisis in the United Nations.

U.S. sources disclosed Tuesday night that Gromyko had accepted an invitation to lunch with Rusk at 1 p.m. EDT that day. The invitation was extended a few hours earlier when Rusk and Gromyko attended the brief opening meeting of the United Nations Assembly Tuesday afternoon.

Informants said that Berlin would be discussed — a point on which Washington and Moscow agreed last week. The crisis in U.N. affairs arising from the death of Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold is also expected to get an airing at the luncheon.

Rusk had said he intended to talk over the U.N. situation with Gromyko.

Rusk met with British Foreign Secretary Lord Home Tuesday night for what aides called a long discussion of U.N. affairs. No details were disclosed. But Rusk and Home are concerned about the threat to U.N. operations, particularly in the Congo, by the Soviet Union's opposition to appointment of a successor to Hammarskjold.

Gromyko served notice Tuesday afternoon, at an informal meeting with newsmen, that he would insist on acceptance by the United Nations of the Soviet Union's proposal to turn over executive powers to a three-man board.

The Rusk invitation to Gromyko was extended in a brief talk held by Charles E. Bohlen with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin. The two met in the General Assembly hall. The lunch will be in Rusk's suite in a midtown New York hotel. Several aides of each man will attend to assist in the discussion.

House Passes Bill For Disarm Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Tuesday approved President Kennedy's request for a new government agency to help him shape and carry out U.S. disarmament policy.

The action came in the face of complaints by some lawmakers that the proposal was "wishful thinking" and might even be dangerous in view of present world conditions. One congressman warned Kennedy to keep the "nutballs" out of the agency.

The legislation now goes to a congressional conference committee to iron out minor differences with a Senate-passed version of the bill.

The House bill would provide a $10 million authorization to finance the agency during its first year.

Pilgrims Escape Serious Injury In Plane Crash

DUBLIN (UPI) — Sixty-nine pilgrims returning from the Roman Catholic shrine at Lourdes, France, escaped serious injury Tuesday night when their chartered DC4 airplane crash-landed outside Dublin Airport in a driving rain.

The plane, which also carried a crew of four, overshot the runway while landing, nosed up for a moment and finally plopped down in a field. It skidded across the rain-soaked ground until it came to a halt squarely across the main Dublin-Belfast highway.

"It was indeed a miracle that no one was killed," airport employee John O'Lary said as the Irish passengers and four-man English crew piled out of the plane.

Officials said the passengers had made a pilgrimage of prayer to Lourdes, a shrine much visited by cripples, but that none were crippled.

West Berliners Welcome Clay

BERLIN (UPI) — Retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay returned to Berlin Tuesday with a pledge that the city and its people shall remain free. He received a tumultuous welcome from Berliners who wept with joy and piled his limousine full of flowers.

Clay, the hero of the 1948-49 airlift that saved West Berlin from starvation, came back as President Kennedy's personal representative.

West Berlin police estimated that up to 100,000 persons lined the streets to see Clay who flew to Tempelhof Airport through the same air corridor over East Germany that Allied planes used 13 years ago to break the Communist blockade.

Clay, who now has the rank of ambassador, conferred earlier Tuesday with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn. He had known Adenauer when he served as American military governor from 1945 to 1949.

Houston Site To Be Moon Shot Lab Control Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sprawling, 1,000-acre site in Houston, Tex., was picked Tuesday for a $60-million laboratory command center—the mastermind of America's efforts to get a man to the moon.

Here the crews will be trained to fly the missions and the space craft themselves will be designed, developed and tested.

This is the final step in assigning the major centers from which project Apollo—the moon mission—will be coordinated.

American scientists hope to get a man on the moon by 1970.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced that its manned space flight research laboratory in Houston would be the command center for project Apollo and subsequent

Senate Spurns Change In Rules To Curb Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate dealt sudden death Tuesday to a move to change its rules for shutting off filibusters.

By an unexpectedly lopsided vote of 43 to 37 it refused to limit debate on the move and then went on to smother the proposal itself by a 47-35 vote.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, said the matter was settled for this year and next year "too. Mansfield said the voting "worked out in a way I did not anticipate." In view of the failure to muster even a majority in favor of his petition to limit debate, he said he saw no point in engaging in "sham battles."

The outcome was a major victory for Southern members who contended the proposed rules change was a politically inspired move to ease the way for civil rights legislation.

"This move to change the rules is nothing more than politics," said Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La. "It does great violence to the Senate."

Long contended that what he called the right of free debate has not blocked civil rights bills in the past, but has made it possible "to eliminate the most obnoxious and ridiculous provisions" in them.

De Gaulle Bomb Plot Fake, Salan Declares

PARIS (AP)—A letter signed with the name of ex-Gen. Raoul Salan challenged government assertions that a recent bomb plot was a genuine attempt on President De Gaulle's life.

The letter, published Tuesday in the newspaper Le Monde, said the incident was an "odious machination, mixing the unlikely with the ridiculous." The letter suggested that persons close to De Gaulle were behind the "false attack" to reduce opposition.

French authorities linked the plot with a secret army organization directed by Salan.

Most Of East Coast In Path Of Big Storm

Hurricane Advance
Winds, High Tides
Buffet N. Carolina

CAPE HATTERAS, N.C. (AP) — Twenty-five foot swells battered the North Carolina Outer Banks Tuesday night as Hurricane Esther increased a lumbering landward gait that would carry her along the populous Eastern seaboard.

As the huge storm moved toward this storied coast line, tides increased and waves and swells increased in size and density. Her winds were clocked at 130 m.p.h.

A preliminary hurricane watch was extended to the Massachusetts coast and gale warnings as far north as Portsmouth, N.H.

The Miami Weather Bureau in a bulletin at 7 p.m. placed the storm center 200 miles southeast of Hatteras and moving north-northwest at 15 miles per hour.

The Weather Bureau called the storm "large and dangerous" and said its center should pass "not far from but to the east of Cape Hatteras Wednesday morning." Unless its path changes, the hurricane should be felt along the entire seaboard northward. Hurricane warnings were displayed from Cherry Point, N.C., to the Virginia Capes.

Gale Warnings Extended

The advance forces of the hurricane brought winds of 40 to 50 mph and waves which inundated a major portion of a 48-mile road along the Outer Banks from Oregon Inlet to Hatteras. The residents of several fishing communities along the route were marooned, but were not considered in danger unless the storm should shift abruptly to the west.

Gale warnings were extended northward to Block Island, R.I., including Long Island, N.Y., and all of Chesapeake and Delaware bays and from south of Cherry Point, N.C., to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

The Weather Bureau said the hurricane had weakened some in its central area and maximum sustained winds near the center were estimated at 130 m.p.h.

Esther was expected to continue moving north-northwest during the next 12 hours and then north during the following 12 hours. In its path were fertile coastal farm areas and metropolitan centers. However, much of the rich North Carolina and Virginia tobacco crop already has been harvested.

Evacuation Under Way

The North Carolina coastline and the Virginia Capes were shuttered tightly, but many old timers on the fabled Outer Banks, known as the graveyard of the Atlantic, refused to leave.

The Weather Bureau warned that tides would increase more than the predicted 4 to 8 feet should the hurricane take a slightly more westerly course than now indicated.

Many late-season tourists and residents of low-lying areas streamed inland. North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford had urged complete evacuation of the Outer Banks.

The weather bureau said the eye, or center, of the immense storm should pass not far off the Cape Hatteras coast Wednesday morning.

Hurricane watch and gale warnings were displayed north of the Virginia Capes to Cape May, N.J., including all of Chesapeake and Delaware bays and from south of Cherry Point, N.C., to Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Mayor W. Fred Duckworth of Norfolk, Va., said he was advised by the Navy that Norfolk would get the brunt of the storm when it moves up the coast early Wednesday.

Service installations moved aircraft inland and took other precautionary measures.

Demos Give Up Fight For Postal Rate Hikes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic congressional leaders Tuesday abandoned efforts to win enactment this year of a five-cent letter or any of the other higher postal rates sought by President Kennedy.

Acting Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., said Kennedy was informed of the decision at the White House legislative conference Tuesday morning.

The announcement confirmed what key lawmakers had been saying privately for several days—that there was no longer any chance of winning final passage of any compromise postal rate increase this year.

U.N. Assembly Also Faces Money Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The crisis of the United Nations is not only one of men but also one of money.

The prophecy of the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld was that the organization would be "virtually without funds" by the end of this month.

The trouble is that too many U.N. members have not paid their shares of the cost of running the U.N. forces in the Middle East and the Congo.

The General Assembly must deal with the financial crisis in its 16th annual session, which started Tuesday—which is also confronted with a U.N. military-political crisis in the Congo.

Hammarskjöld made his prophecy in advance of the session as he proposed that the assembly appropriate $73.5 million as the regular U.N. budget for 1962.

compared with the $72.9 million appropriated for this year.

But they were called on to pay more than twice that for the U.N. military operations—$19 million for the U.N. Emergency Force in the Middle East for all 1961 and $149 million for the U.N. Force in the Congo from July 1960 through 1961.

The latest accounts show that by the end of last month, they had paid only 32 per cent of what they owed to keep up the Middle East force and only 60 per cent of what they owed to keep up the Congo force—though they had put in 67 per cent of their dues for the regular budget.

In his budget proposals, Hammarskjöld warned that unless there was more financial support by early next year, it would be impossible to keep the two forces going "even on a reduced scale."

Eastern Shore Battens Down For Hurricane

SALISBURY (AP)—Maryland's Eastern Shore was calmly awaiting the 150-mile fury of Hurricane Esther Tuesday night but the redoubtable lady wasn't likely to catch the shore napping.

While the outward appearance of the populous was calm, the feverish preparation for meeting the hurricane threat proceeded orderly behind the scene.

The American Red Cross, Civil Defense, National Guard and local and State Police officials were on the job.

Esther was whirling inland toward Cape Hatteras, N. C., with winds of 150-miles per hour at the center. The hurricane was expected to hit this area about noon Wednesday.

George G. Strott, Red Cross disaster chairman for Wicomico County, and Col. Royden S. Meise, county Civil Defense director, set up headquarters in the county courthouse.

Capt. Emory V. Hogans, an administrative officer at the National Guard armory here, said calls went out for Guardsmen to report on a volunteer basis and all Guard facilities from Elkton-Pocomoke and Crisfield were standing by to lend assistance.

The fringes of Esther were making themselves felt to the area Tuesday night. The Kiptopeake Ferry from Cape Charles, Va., to Norfolk, Va., was discontinued until further notice. People evacuated their homes on Tangier and Smith Islands in the Chesapeake Bay off Crisfield on a voluntary basis and other evacuations were continuing on Chincoteague Island paralleling the Maryland-Virginia Atlantic coastlines.

Strott, who is also coordinating Red Cross preparations in Princess Anne, Ocean City, Cambridge, Denton, and Easton, said shelters were made available in those cities. Strott said Ocean City was in "a perfect state of readiness." He said shelters near the resort community were set up, manned, and ready to receive evacuees.

The Coast Guard reported tides at Ocean City were running two or three feet above normal.

Col. Meise ordered the movement of 150 cots to Salisbury's new National Guard Armory. He said the old armory will also be kept open to handle transient service personnel trapped in the path of Esther.

Most schools, churches, community centers and public buildings on the Shore were open and ready to receive refugees.

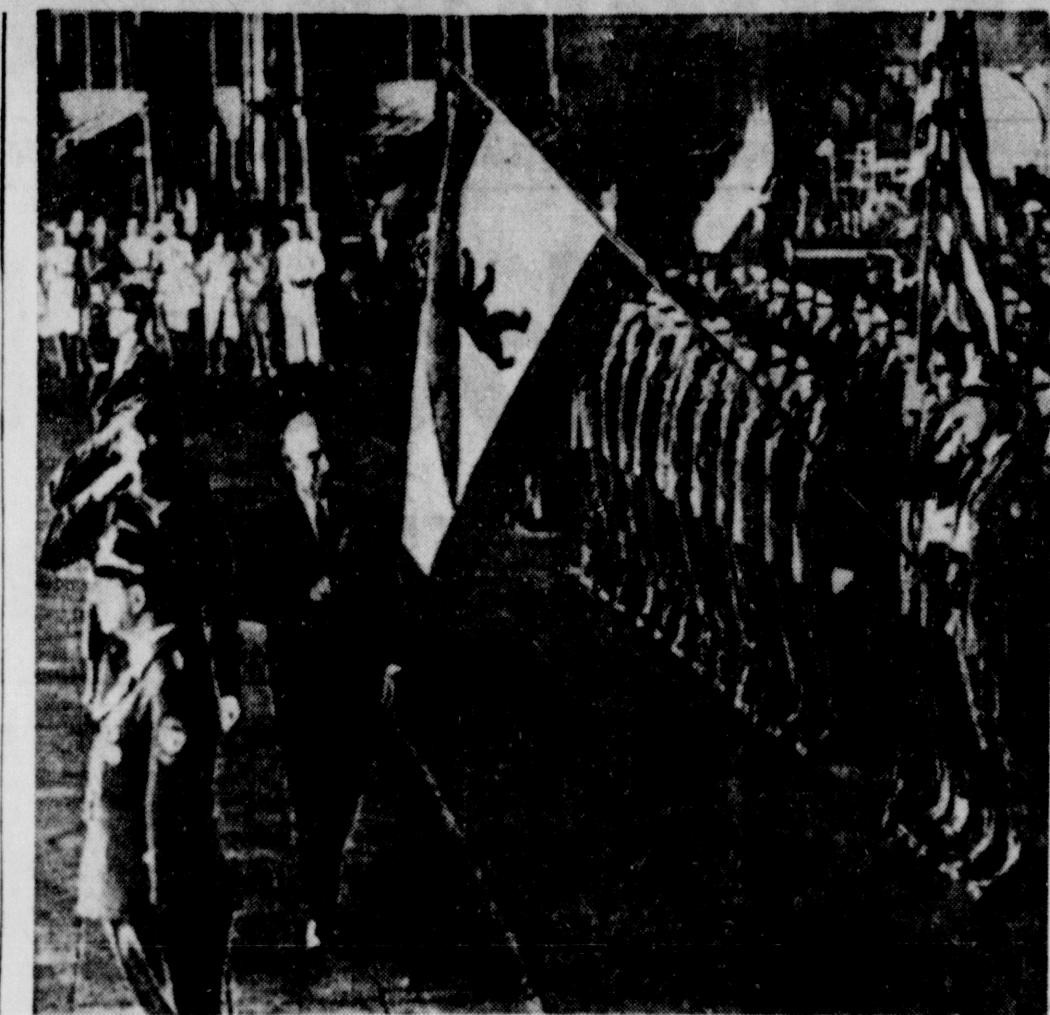

Man Under Death Sentence Appeals

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—William Ralph, sentenced to die in the Maryland Penitentiary gas chamber, asked the Court of Appeals Tuesday to upset his Montgomery County conviction of rape.

The 27-year-old Negro said he was forced by police to confess that he raped a 42-year-old white woman in her home at Kensington March 25, 1960.

The high court took the case under advisement.

Microfilming Of All Md. Land Records Urged

BALTIMORE (AP)—State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein recommended Tuesday that all Maryland land records be microfilmed and put in a spot safe from nuclear bombardment.

Goldstein's suggestion came at a meeting of the Board of Public Works. Gov. Taves suggested he discuss it Sept. 28 at a meeting of state, county and municipal officials on Civil Defense.

Goldstein said deeds, land plats and wills dating back to 1850 are on 11,000 rolls of microfilm stored at the Hall of Records in Annapolis.

He said these could be copied and put in a bomb-proof depository for a cost of $70,000.

Goldstein said it would be an extremely difficult task to rebuild and establish boundaries after a nuclear attack if the land records were destroyed.

In other action, the board approved two options on 424 acres of land worth $466,650 to be added to the Gunpowder State Park system in Baltimore County.

The board also approved two options on about 10 acres of land for the Patapsco State Park at the price of $9,000.

On another park matter, the board heard a report that 53 acres were acquired in condemnation proceedings for the Harpers Ferry National Monument. The property was acquired from the Marmion Estates for the price of $810.

Sound Merger Needed NYC Witness Tells ICC

WASHINGTON (AP)—An economic consultant testified Tuesday that a continuing decline in Eastern rail freight traffic "emphasizes the need for a program of sound railroad unification."

Jesse J. Friedman of Washington testified freight traffic on Eastern railroads has deteriorated seriously. He predicted that the volume in 1970 would be well below the 1960 level if post-war trends continue.

He appeared before an Interstate Commerce Commission examiner as a witness for the New York Central Railroad. Central is contesting with the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad for permission to take over the ailing Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

Robert D. Brooks, Central attorney, said Friedman's testimony was offered in an effort to show that the freight traffic problem was not confined to the B&O alone—it's a "territorial emergency," he said.

The C&O presented testimony by Robert C. Clark of Pittsburgh, vice president of Baton Coal Co., in support of its plans to improve the B&O service.

Clark testified that his company experienced difficulties in B&O service to its properties in northern West Virginia and Pennsylvania. He said that unless C&O takes control of the B&O he feared a breakdown of B&O service in his operations.

Another witness for the New York Central attacked the C&O suggestion for rehabilitating the locomotives and freight cars of the B&O.

James H. Heron, an assistant vice president of Central, said the B&O would be $500,000 a year better off by buying modern remanufactured locomotive units than by following the C&O plan.

35 Witnesses Called In Reformatory Probe

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—The Washington County grand jury jury called about 35 witnesses Tuesday as it began its investigation of the administration of the Reformatory for Males.

Among the witnesses were C. J. Ferling, reformatory superintendent, and Robert Clapper, fired as assistant superintendent last month after a clash with Ferling.

Circuit Court Judge D. K. McLaughlin directed the grand jury to investigate "internal operations at the reformatory." He said the jurors should not review Clapper's dismissal but should determine whether the institution was being properly managed.

The judge said there were reports that some reformatory officials wrote notes to one another because they were not on speaking terms.

Negro Lives It Up As Fake Envoy

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-year-old hotel kitchen worker was packed off to jail a second time Tuesday for living it up—on the cuff—as a fake ambassador from Africa.

William Constantine, a Negro with a small goatee and mustache, told Magistrate Edward J. Chapman he chucked his kitchen job at a Catskill Mountain resort last Wednesday and signed into New York's Hotel Commodore as ambassador from Ghana.

Previously, Constantine admitted, he had been juggled six months for fleeing the Waldorf-Astoria by representing himself as the envoy from Ethiopia. Police said he carried no luggage as he moved into the Commodore, but got royal treatment from bowing functionaries with no questions asked. There upon he began to live in high style in his $23-a-day suite.

He made phone calls to Washington, arranged for a party in another hotel and hired a young woman as receptionist.

Things went fine until some American Express checks belonging to the young woman disappeared. The ensuing investigation brought to light Constantine's lack of diplomatic standing.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works gently on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONOID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONOID's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby bowel muscles. (3) And COLONOID acts gently on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONOID relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONOID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONOID today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Hurricane Warning Hundreds Evacuate Their Island Homes In Chesapeake Bay

By The Associated Press

Hundreds of Marylanders heeded official warnings on Hurricane Esther Tuesday and evacuated their island homes in Chesapeake Bay.

More than 1,000 evacuees moved into Crisfield, Md., and other mainland points from communities on Tangier and Smith Island.

Stand-by evacuation plans were made in other low-lying areas.

Maryland's Eastern Shore was directly in the path of the storm as it moved Tuesday. The hurricane, packing 150-mile-an-hour winds, was expected to reach Maryland Wednesday.

Gov. Tawes placed the state on a "maximum alert" and ordered all units concerned to take precautions to protect the citizenry.

"I urge all Marylanders to remain calm but to make their own preparations," he said. "Above all maintain contact with the situation through radio and television."

Tawes said the Red Cross has established "watch groups" and field units at Salisbury and Baltimore. He said alerted units included Civil Defense officials, the State Police, the National Guard and the State Roads Commission.

Gale warnings were displayed on Chesapeake Bay Tuesday morning. Northeastern winds were expected to reach 30 to 40 knots by late Tuesday night.

Described as "very large and very dangerous," the hurricane was moving Tuesday at 13 miles an hour toward the North Carolina coast in a direction that would bring it into Maryland about noon Wednesday. High winds were expected as far west as Frederick.

Rain was expected to become heavy Tuesday night and early Wednesday.

A Weather Bureau warning urging "preliminary precautions immediately" applies everywhere east of the mountains.

In particular, the bulletin said "persons living in areas immediately along the coast and . . . in areas subject to flooding by rising tides and heavy rains should be prepared to evacuate on short notice."

The Tidewater Fisheries Commission urged all pleasure boaters to stay in port and reinforce their anchorage. Some 40 TFC patrol boats were standing by for distress calls.

Seven TFC boats joined Coast Guard cutters, mail boats and personal craft in transporting residents from Tangier Island and Smith Island's three communities to Crisfield.

Tangier Island is in the lower bay, about 13 miles south of Crisfield. It has about 1,000 residents.

Smith Island, north of Tangier and just west of Crisfield, is also the home of about 1,000 persons.

Officials at Ocean City, the state's only Atlantic Ocean resort, prepared evacuation plans. Two schools at Berlin — about seven miles west — were set aside as shelters.

A 25-foot Coast Guard surf boat exploded and sank Tuesday morning as its crew prepared to move it into more secure anchorage at Ocean City. No one was hurt.

Aircraft were flown to out of the area or tucked into hangars at the Naval Academy in Annapolis and at Dover (Del.) Air Force Base.

Five shelter and feeding areas were set up at Salisbury and four at Crisfield for use if necessary. Civil Defense officials had trucks and buses standing by waterfront areas in Anne Arundel County.

One of the worst storms ever to hit Maryland was Hurricane Hazel which swept through the center of the state Oct. 15, 1954 taking 12 lives and destroying property worth millions of dollars.

Maryland News In Brief

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Washington County grand jury has returned two indictments against Ernest Ray Carbaugh, 29, in the fatal shooting of his wife and the wounding of his father-in-law.

Carbaugh was indicted on a charge of first-degree murder in the shooting of his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Jane Carbaugh. He was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to kill in the wounding of her father, Morris Kenneth Cline, 48.

The shooting occurred Sunday night at nearby Cavetown.

BLACKWATER FALLS, W.Va. (AP) — The Navy is developing a deep-diving submarine which will operate "at depths inconceivable during World War II," Rear Adm. Frederick Warner said Tuesday.

"This deep-diving submarine is not just a scheme on someone's drawing board," he said. "It will be operational with our fleet within two years."

Warner was commander of the Atlantic Submarine Fleet before assuming his present duty as commandant of the 8th Naval District at New Orleans, La.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Products made by Maryland convicts sold for more than $3 million last year, according to a report for State Use Industries.

The report covered fiscal 1961, the 12 months which ended June 30, 1961. It cited "steady progress in the development and expansion" of the industries despite critical space problems.

The 24 correctional industries covered 19 types of occupation and provided daily employment for 1,650 inmates. Eighty per cent of the products were sold to state institutions while the remainder was purchased by county and municipal governments.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A 23-year-old State Roads Commission inspector was crushed to death Tuesday when struck by a bulldozer working on the Baltimore Beltway.

The victim was David A. Hardman of Frederick, the father of several small children.

Police said Hardman was examining dirt samples when he was struck by a bulldozer driven by George Doyle of Baltimore County.

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP) — Lewis Arthur Stuart, 31, of Baltimore was fatally injured Tuesday when his car collided with a tractor-trailer on U.S. 11 five miles south of here.

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Carroll County dairy has again attacked the validity of a federal milk marketing order for the Maryland area.

The dairy, Willow Farms, has filed a suit in U.S. District Court asking a review of a ruling by a judicial officer on behalf of the Secretary of Agriculture.

The dairy has been paying assessments under the order to the federal court clerk and has been submitting the required reports to the court while challenging the 1960 order.

Last month a judicial officer for the Department of Agriculture, Thomas J. Flavin, ruled that the order was properly issued and did not discriminate against the dairy. Willow Farms is appealing from the ruling.

Grimes Apple Harvest Nears Peak In State

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Picking of Jonathan apples is expected to slacken this week as fruit farmers in the Hancock area prepared for volume movement this weekend of the Grimes variety, according to the Maryland Crop Reporting Service.

The harvest of Grimes is expected to reach its peak about Monday if the weather continues favorable. Picking of Jonathans was in full swing last weekend.

At the same time, the harvest of Red and Golden Delicious apples was expected to get underway this week. The crop service said above normal temperatures last week helped retard the color development of apples in the Delaware-Maryland area.

In addition to the harvest of Jonathan apples, last week's activity included third and fourth cuttings of hay and harvesting of corn for silage.

About 30-40 per cent of the fourth alfalfa cutting was completed last week while third cuttings were getting underway in Garrett County.

Some corn picking was underway in Southern Maryland counties, but elsewhere the crop averaged about 25 per cent mature. About 90 per cent of the Southern Maryland tobacco crop had been cut by the start of this week.

On the Eastern Shore, the harvest of most vegetable and melon crops was completed and picking of fall snap beans and digging of sweet potatoes was in full swing.

Soybeans made excellent progress during the week, and nearly 85 per cent of the crop was podded and more than 20 per cent was yellowed.

Soil moisture supplies were generally short to adequate in the two-state area. Pasture feed supplies were average to below average in Southern and Western Maryland, but were generally average elsewhere.

Dudleys' Trial Set For Nov. 13

HANOVER COURTHOUSE, Va. (AP) — A carnival couple who said they disposed of the bodies of five of their children during two years of cross country wanderings will be placed on trial here in November for murder.

Circuit Judge Leon M. Bazile ruled that Kenneth E. Dudley, 47, will stand trial Nov. 13 and his wife, Irene, 41, three days later.

The Dudleys are accused of causing the malnutrition death of 8-year-old Carol Ann Dudley, whose body was found last February in a patch of woods just off a Brunswick County highway.

Shot To Death

HAVANA (UPI) — A government firing squad Tuesday executed Nelson Figueroa in Santiago after his conviction as a "counter-revolutionary."

The execution brought the month's total to 17, the year's to 109, and the total since Fidel Castro took power in Jan., 1959 to 941.

Three Negroes Continue Their Hunger Strike In State Hospital

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Three Philadelphia Negroes continued their hunger strike into its 13th day Tuesday after being transferred from a jail to a state hospital for the mentally ill for examination.

In Washington, meanwhile, the Justice Department said it had begun an investigation of the case.

The Negroes have refused food in protest of their arrest on trespass charges after they were denied service at a restaurant.

Cecil County authorities ordered them transferred from the county jail to Crownsville State Hospital near here for mental and physical examinations.

Dr. Charles S. Ward, superintendent of the hospital, said they show no signs of mental illness. He said he planned to report that finding to the court.

The three — Wallace F. Nelson, his wife, Juanita, and Mrs. Rose Robinson — were arrested Sept. 6 at a restaurant at North East, near Elkton in Cecil County. They allegedly refused to leave when the owner ordered them to do so.

Since their arrest, the defendants have refused legal counsel and have refused on three occasions to walk from their cells to Magistrate's Court for hearings.

They were scheduled for a jury trial in Cecil County Circuit Court Wednesday, but the hearing was postponed pending a report from Crownsville.

The hospital superintendent said the three Negroes told him they felt by eating they would be cooperating with officials in a situation they think wrong and unfair.

Dr. Ward said they refused to give him any medical history or to submit to laboratory tests.

"They are in fairly good condition. I would only force the situation (force feeding) if their fasting began to indicate serious physical harm," he said.

A spokesman for Gov. Tawes said the State Constitution prohibits interference by the executive in judicial processes and that Tawes was abiding by that rule.

Do You Suffer From Sick, Throbbing Migraine Headaches?

New Medical Discovery Never Before Available
Now Released To Public. No Prescription Needed.

Today, science has announced a doctor's new formula which has been especially developed to relieve both the throbbing pain and sickish feeling of migraine-type headaches. Tests conducted by a practicing New York physician showed that in patient after patient—pain-relief and comfort were obtained in minutes. And all without the use of narcotics, codeine or ergot remedies which may upset the stomach and so further aggravate the condition.

This remarkable new formula is called Duplexin®. It is the first headache discovery in the history of medicine with this exclusive formula. (A unique 2-layer pink and white tablet). It relieves both headache pain and a sick, upset stomach with this exclusive formula.

Here are the medical facts why Duplexin is safer, faster, more effective—why it's unlike the usual headache remedies. Only Duplexin unites powerful doctor-approved pain relievers with this special stomach-soothing antacid. In seconds, Duplexin does what no aspirin or buffered aspirin can ever do. It contains exclusive, hospital-tested medications not found in any alkalizer or seltzer. Duplexin's white layer concentrates on relieving pain faster. Throbbing pain relieved in minutes. Its pink layer relieves that sickish feeling and protects your stomach as it keeps on speeding relief.

Duplexin also calms nervous stress (which so often causes migraine) and helps relieve depression. Taken at the first sign of an attack, Duplexin actually helps prevent those migraine pains. Ask for Duplexin Tablets at any drugstore. Now available without prescription.

Opening lead: Ten of ♣

The loser-on-loser play is part of the standard technique of any good declarer. However, the substitution of one loser for another is a device frequently overlooked by even the better dummy players. Declarer's establishment of his side suit in today's hand could have been facilitated had he been alert enough to trade one of his club losers for a spade loser.

The bidding proceeded smoothly.

ly. North's two diamond rebid is proper on this minimum holding. After South showed his second suit North gave a preference for hearts. Since a satisfactory fit had been established and South had the equivalent of an opening bid, he proceeded to game in hearts.

West opened the ten of spades. This was won in dummy and declarer forthwith set about to establish the club suit. He cashed the king and ace and then ruffed a third round with dummy's ten. East, however, overruffed with the jack and returned a low spade to partner's king. West won and played a fourth round of clubs and East was able to overruff dummy again for the third defensive trick with a diamond trick still to be reaped by East.

South should have recognized that he was subject to an over-ruff and on the third club, instead of trumping, should have discarded dummy's jack of spades. West could then continue with the fourth club and permit East to overruff dummy. But East would be giving up his natural trump trick and declarer by transferring one club ruff to the spade suit, would confine his losers to one club, one diamond, and one overruff.

Nurses Find New Medical Discovery Relieves Bloat, Cramps, Pain That Cause Pre-Period Tension, Nerves Helps Ease Women Into Their Periods By Releasing Excess Water Pressure On Sensitive Female Tissues.

New York, N. Y. (Special) - Medical science has developed an astonishing new formula that now does both: relieves menstrual cramps and pain as well as the accompanying pre-period tension and nervousness.

In tests conducted by hundreds of nurses on themselves, many reported nervousness and irritability were calmed. Abdominal bloating, soreness of breasts and depression were reduced. Cramps, fatigue and headaches were relieved. So effective is this new medical discovery that Registered Nurses make such statements as: "A great help both before and during menstruation." "Relieves all symptoms." "More effective than other preparations taken - including prescription drugs." All this without narcotics or tranquilizers, and without changing the regularity of the period in any way. Nurses confirm in this test that women actually ease through more comfortable periods.

A secret of this new discovery (called Trender® Tablets) is the way it releases excess water fluids that doctors know build up in the days before the period. This buildup causes bloat, soreness, pressure on sensitive female tissues. Trender Tablets work by releasing the excess water fluids so pressure in tissues is relieved and by relieving cramps and pain.

The ingredients in Trender Tablets are safe and effective taken as directed. Trender Tablets are available at all drug counters without a prescription.

Shoe And Foot Facts For You

A good fit in shoes is a matter of more than just the proper size. It also depends on the cut of the last and of the uppers. Many specialists say that the most natural and therefore comfortable last is cut near-straight along the inside edge and rounded generously across the toes. Uppers must be designed to accommodate each individual's foot idiosyncrasies. The vamp should be scooped or raised sufficiently to allow for the rise of the instep. The counter must be adjusted to the length and width of the heel. Even in the most casual type of shoe, the arch should be supported by a firm shank. For much walking or standing, a medium heel with a generous base is kindest to both feet and legs.

Do you consider all of these factors when you select your shoes? With patience, it is possible to find the shoe that is cut exactly right for you. There are many brands at various prices that cater to special foot problems with no sacrifice of styling. Comfort also depends on the care you give your shoes. Swab them with alcohol, and expose them to air and sun regularly. Dust a soothing, medicated powder into shoes before each wearing. Rotate your shoes so that you never wear same pair twice in succession. Change shoes before dinner after a long day. Immediately after wearing, insert trees in your shoes and give them a polish or brush up. Store off the floor. At the first sign of wear at the tip, heel or inner sole, make haste to have the damage repaired. Greater foot comfort, a smoother brow, a jauntier carriage and a sunnier outlook are benefits that will accrue to you if you take these measures. Besides ... the prolonged "new look" of your shoes will save you dollars!

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Do you ever worry about whether your baby gets enough sleep? Well, old Mother Nature (in cahoots with the sandman) usually sees to it that babies get the amount of sleep they need. Sleep habits, like all baby behavior patterns, vary with the baby. There is no evidence to prove that a wide-awake suffers from what may seem like an undue lack of sleep. Most babies sleep when they're tired.

Quiet, please! Playing with baby, or letting him get over-stimulated just before bedtime, may put off baby's date with the sandman.

More, please! That's what baby's coo means when you offer tasty teaspoonsful of Gerber Strained High Meat Dinners. Flavor galore, which comes from helping of succulent meat, flavor-crossed with selected vegetables. (3 times as much meat as regular vegetable and meat combinations.) As for the things that make baby thrive: Gerber High Meat Dinners are high in growth-promoting protein, offer a good source of niacin, an important B-vitamin.

Blanket statements. (1) Handy, out-of-sight, out-of-the-way storage place for baby's blankets: a towel rack attached to the inside of baby's closet. (2) When buying new crib blankets, buy two of the same size and color. When baby graduates to a big bed, stitch 'em together for a full-size comforter.

A pure treasure of eating pleasure and downright good nutrition, too, Gerber Strained Egg Yolks have a sunny yellow color, a yummy custard-y texture and a fresh-egg flavor that's hard to duplicate. As to nutrition, they're high in protein and rich in vitamin A and iron. Heat-sterilized, of course, for baby's protection. P.S. And don't forget Gerber Strained or Junior Egg Yolks and Ham. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Guilty Plea Entered In Murder Case

BEDFORD — Judge Richard C. Snyder yesterday sentenced three Bedford County brothers after hearing pleas of guilty to burglary charges, and deferred sentencing another county man who changed his plea on a murder charge to guilty.

Neal F. Hafer, 32, and his brother, Frank D. Hafer, 28, each was sentenced to serve from two to four years in Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary, and another brother, Daniel Hafer Jr., 20, was committed to the county jail for 11 months. The family resides on RD 1.

The family group was arrested last Thursday by State Police and charged with burglarizing six summer homes and residences in the county during the early summer.

The Hafer brothers pleaded guilty to burglarizing the summer home of Harold M. Clark in Monroe Township on two occasions, the residence of Raymond G. Hood in East St. Clair Township, the home of Bernard Branner in East Providence Township, the summer residence of Paul L. Montgomery in Bedford Township, and a hunting lodge of Cameron E. Varner in East St. Clair Township.

Investigating authorities said the Hafers made off with personal property, food and kitchen equipment and utensils valued at nearly $500 during their robbery spree. Pleading guilty to a charge of murder yesterday was Charles Henry (Heeter) Allen Jr., 48, of RD 1. Judge Snyder deferred sentence, indicating he wished to study the family background and court reports before reaching a decision.

Allen, who remains in the custody of Sheriff J. Wayne Manspeaker, is charged in connection with the death of a nephew, Kenneth Richard (Jack) Allen, 30, also of RD 1.

The younger Allen died July 12 in Bedford County Memorial Hospital of injuries suffered from a gunshot wound.

The elder Allen previously had entered a not guilty plea to the murder charge through his court-appointed counsel, Attorney Donald C. Reiley.

Hearing Set On Zoning

A public hearing will be held by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners on Tuesday, October 10, at 7:30 p. m. at the Court House to hear proponents and opponents of the proposed interim zoning ordinance for the county.

The interim ordinance was approved recently by the County Planning and Zoning Commission and the county commissioners will make their decision in the matter at a meeting following the public hearing.

The County Planning and Zoning Commission held a public hearing last month and there were few persons attending. The major objection was the provision concerning mobile homes. This section has since been changed to meet these objections.

Copies of the interim ordinance may be obtained at the County Planning and Zoning Commission office in the basement of the Court House.

Mayor To Attend Testimonial Dinner

Mayor J. Edwin Keech will attend the testimonial dinner for Gov. J. Millard Tawes Thursday at the National Guard Armory at Pikesville.

Weather permitting, the Mayor plans to fly to the dinner in his new plane in which he is taking pilot instruction. He said he hopes to get a qualified pilot at the local airport to fly him to Pikesville.

Effect Of New Water Rate Ordinance Outlined By City Council

The new water ordinance approved Monday by the Mayor and Council does not affect the individual home owner or apartment house owner within the city limits, the Water Department said.

Rates for the individual consumer in the city remain at 36 cents per 1,000 gallon a quarter or $2.70 per 1,000 cubic feet, a minimum charge of $5.40 for water plus 75 per cent of that charge for sewage treatment fee.

The gross quarterly amount for the individual within the city is $9.45. A five per cent discount is allowed if paid within 15 days, making a net bill of $8.98 a quarter.

The one change within the city affects larger water users. Under the old domestic rates setup, all using over 510,000 gallons a quarter paid 16.8 cents a thousand.

This 16.8-cent rate, after study and comparison with other studies, has been abolished because it was found to be far lower than any domestic charge in cities of comparable size. It was the lowest in the old rate schedule.

In the new schedule for the city where the rate was 30 cents a 1,000 gallons for customers using 90,000 gallons through 270,000, the rate has been changed to 36 cents through 270,000. Over 270,000 gallons and up to 510,000, the rate which had been 24 cents a 1,000 has been changed to 30 cents; and all domestic customers using over 510,000 gallons pay 24 cents a thousand.

The breakdown of the one change affecting the city is as follows: First 270,000 gallons, 36 cents a thousand; next 240,000 gallons, 30 cents a thousand; all over 510,000, 24 cents a thousand.

In figuring a water bill, all three charges are included in the final accounting, depending on amount of water used.

The major changes affect those living outside the city. These include:

DOMESTIC USERS OUTSIDE CITY—The actual raise in rate per quarter is from $10 to $12. Previous rate for all over 510,000 was 30.4 cents a thousand. This rate has been abolished. It was the lowest in the old rate schedule.

Under the new ordinance, domestic users outside the city using over 90,000 gallons and up to 270,000 gallons who previously paid 54.4 cents a thousand, will now pay 80 cents a thousand through 270,000 gallons. Over 270,000 and up to 510,000 gallons, the old rate was 43½ cents a thousand, now 65 cents. Over 510,000 gallons, were paying 30.4 cents a thousand, now 50 cents a thousand.

The domestic outside user schedule is as follows: First 270,000 gallons, 80 cents; next 240,000 gallons, 65 cents; over 510,000 gallons, 50 cents.

WATER COMPANIES—With exception of Valley Road, which is a small consumer compared to other water companies, LaVale, Wiley Ford, Ridgeley and Cresaptown, the average increase will be 44 per cent based on last year's consumption of water companies.

It was pointed out that the rate Cumberland will charge the outside water companies is different from that the water companies charge their customers. The highest percentage increase to any water company, based on last year's consumption, is 49 per cent.

Prior to the new ordinance, water companies outside the city had eight different rates. The new ordinance reduces that to four rates on a monthly basis.

The rate schedule for water companies: First 90,000 gallons, 45 cents a thousand a month; next 410,000, 40 cents a thousand; next 3,500,000 gallons, 35 cents a thousand; all over 4,000,000 gallons, 30 cents a thousand.

INDUSTRIAL—In past years, local industries using over 10,000,000 gallons a month were charged six cents for each one thousand gallons.

In studies conducted by the city, it was found this was three times less than other cities of comparable size charged industry outside the city and more than two times less charged industry located in the city. However, the Water Department points out here that it does not differentiate between industries located outside or inside the city limits.

Previously, there were eight rates for industrial water charges. The new ordinance reduces that number to five rates. The rates are as follows:

First 90,000 gallons a month, 30 cents a thousand; next 410,000, 22 cents a thousand; next 3,500,000, 20 cents a thousand; next 6,000,000, 15 cents a thousand; and all over 10,000,000, 12 cents a thousand.

The CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK
The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 58 The Navy, which sacrificed a whole squadron of ships in the disaster at Gosport Navy Yard, Norfolk, earlier in the year, saved "Old Ironsides," U.S.S. Constitution, from falling into Rebel hands much in the daring manner she had been saved from the British forces hovering off Boston in 1812—by running her past the enemy.

The frigate, launched at Boston in 1797, had been saved from the Navy junkyard in 1830 by rousing verses of a 21-year-old Harvard student who was to make a great name for himself as doctor and essayist: Oliver Wendell Holmes.

300 Carpenters Walk Out In Safety Dispute

WHEELING, W. Va. (UPI) — About 300 union carpenters employed at the multi-million-dollar Pike Island lock and dam project near here advised the contractor Tuesday they would not return to work until the firm improved safety precautions.

The workmen walked off the jobs Monday, alleging the contractor, Dravo Corp., Pittsburgh, is not providing adequate safety precautions at the Ohio River project. Most of the carpenters showed up at the site Tuesday but took a vote and returned home.

About 100 other construction workers did not join in the walk-out.

Sen. Smith Sees 'Politics' In W. Va. Rifle Contract

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Maine's lady senator, Margaret Chase Smith, is involved in another controversy involving West Virginia. Recently she led an unsuccessful Senate fight to block the promotion of West Virginia Adj. Gen. Gene Hal Williams to brigadier general in the Army Reserve.

Sen. Smith now says she has "confirmed" that there has been "political maneuvering" to get an Army contract for the new M-14 rifle awarded to a newly-formed concern, West Virginia Ordnance Co., Wheeling, W. Va. She has asked the Senate preparedness subcommittee to investigate.

The Republican senator also asked for a study of the relationship of the Wheeling firm with Harrington & Richardson Inc.,

Man Named To Run Katanga Thwarted

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The pro-Communist Lumbumbist named by the Congo's central government last week to take over the administration of Katanga returned empty-handed Tuesday.

Egide Bochely-Davidson found himself impeded by a bullet-punctuated state of siege at Elisabethville, the provincial capital. He spent his whole stay there at the U.N.-guarded airport, never setting foot within the town.

A U.N. plane brought him back to Leopoldville. Pilots told newsmen the Katangans now have anti-aircraft guns around the Elisabethville airport in a bid to prevent both the landing and take-off of U.N. planes.

Instructor Billy Reynolds (turning front wheel) and Shell dealers check out a car at one of Shell's 123 training centers.

HOW TO SPOT TROUBLE:

Shell instructor Billy Reynolds reveals 10 trouble signals he tells Shell dealers to watch for. You should know about them too. They may help you spot trouble before it starts.

Shell's Billy Reynolds

MORE than 12,000 Shell dealers go to Shell's 123 training centers every year. Classes cover the gamut of station operation. But trouble-spotting gets special emphasis. Here are 10 trouble signals that Billy Reynolds, one of Shell's chief instructors, stresses.

If you notice any of them in your car, tell your Shell dealer. His advice may help you head off a big repair job.

1. Mushy brakes. When your car is standing still, push your brake pedal down with a firm, steady pressure. If the pedal feels soft and sinks all the way to the floor board, you've got trouble that should be fixed right away. Could be a leaking wheel cylinder. Or, more likely, a leaky master brake cylinder. A well-trained Shell dealer can track down brake troubles quickly.

2. Wandering wheels. If your front tires show more wear on one side of the tread than the other, your wheel alignment is probably at fault.

NOTE: an out-of-line wheel drags at an angle to the line of travel — can increase tire wear up to 50 per cent.

Be sure to discuss rigors of uneven tire wear with your Shell dealer.

3. Jiggly front end. Put your foot on either bumper, and shove down hard. If your car bobs up and down for a long time, ask your Shell service man to check your shock absorbers.

4. Decrepit tail pipe. If your tail pipe is rusted through in spots, it should be replaced. Same thing for your muffler. A worn-out exhaust system can make your car roar like a wounded hippo. Worst of all, you run the danger of exhaust fumes seeping into the passenger compartment. Your Shell dealer can take care of the whole problem.

5. "Bloated" radiator hose. Inspect all of the rubber hoses that interconnect your cooling system. If they are cracked or swollen, they can fail at any time and cause your engine to overheat.

Replacing hoses is a simple task for any Shell dealer.

6. Marred windshield. Feel the blades on your windshield wipers. If they're hard, they can scar the glass. If they're frayed, they can streak it. Ask your Shell dealer to check the spring pressure on your wiper arms too. If the blades rest too lightly against the windshield, they can blow away from the glass and let the rain swamp your view.

7. Strange noises. Listen for squeals, squeaks, rattles and other mysterious noises. Strange noises are often warnings of troubles on the way. So, don't be afraid to ask your Shell dealer about sounds you haven't heard before.

8. Under-the-hood clues. You can learn a lot just by looking at your engine. Watch for oil, fuel or water leaks. Even tiny leaks can lead to big trouble later on. You can also make a quick visual check of wiring and electrical connections. If wires are hanging loose—or insulation has worn away—see your Shell dealer.

9. Sluggish battery. If your engine turns over more slowly than usual when you start up, an inspection of your electrical system is in order.

A run-down battery is usually the cause of starting problems. But the real trouble may be elsewhere. Something as simple as a loose battery connection can do it. Or your voltage regulator may need a minor adjustment. Play safe and tell your Shell service man.

10. Oil-streaked sidewalls. It may take a bit of back bending, but it's worth the effort to check the side of your tires you seldom see—the side facing in. Look for signs of leaking fluid on the tire walls. Could be a leaking brake cylinder, or faulty oil seals on the rear wheels. Both can be serious.

Any trained Shell dealer knows many more trouble signals than the ten listed here. Ask him to give your car a bumper-to-bumper inspection next time you stop in for a Shell lubrication—or any service job. One last tip: when you've got your car in top condition, keep it filled with the gasoline that's made for top performance—today's Super Shell with 9 ingredients.

After Hammarskjold, What Of The U.N.?

The tragedy of the sudden and violent death of Dag Hammarskjold in an airplane crash early Monday in Africa is deepened by the brutal and intransigent attitude of the Soviet Union.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin, having heard his chief, Premier Khrushchev, personally denounce the late Secretary-General as a "stooge" and a tool of the Western imperialists, not only refused to subscribe to the Security Council's expression of regret at Mr. Hammarskjold's death, but went even further. He said the Soviet Union did not recognize Mr. Hammarskjold as an official of the United Nations. This, on the same day that the Secretary-General was killed in action while serving the most noble and humane cause of all — that of world peace.

Whether Mr. Hammarskjold was taking the proper course of action in attempting to force the rebellious Katanga province to accept the rule of the Leopoldville central government is beside the point at this moment. The point is that he was, as always, conscientiously carrying out a directive of the United Nations to bring order out of the chaos in the Congo.

Dag Hammarskjold, never content to sit on the sidelines as a ceremonial but relatively impotent gavel wielder, always strode into the thick of things, sometimes dramatically but usually quietly, and usually managed to bring back some kind of agreement to help preserve the peace of the world. It was because of his active and influential role that he incurred the wrath of the Soviet Union, whose Premier began some time ago to act as if he wanted to destroy the United Nations as a world organization. If this is what Mr. Khrushchev really wants, he has a better chance than ever just now, when the world can least afford it. For the U.N. Charter makes no provision for such an eventuality as the sudden death of a Secretary-General, and no one can say what will happen. If the Soviet Premier insists on trying to force upon the U.N. his ridiculously unworkable "troika" proposal as a replacement for the Secretary-General, the U.N. is certain to degenerate into a mere debating society, and the debates are certain to become more unruly and ever so much more futile.

An anxious world will be watching and waiting to see what the United Nations will do toward finding a successor for Dag Hammarskjold, the man of peace who served it so well for more than half the time it has been in existence.

These Days

No Bloc At Belgrade

According to President Sukarno of Indonesia, no bloc of nations was to be organized at Belgrade. He said:

"We come together here not as members of a bloc, for indeed countries which conduct a policy of non-alignment do not constitute a bloc. We abhor the very idea of blocs. We have come together because we maintain the view that the creation of blocs, especially when based upon power politics and the armaments race, can only lead to war which, in this nuclear era, can only mean the extinction of mankind."

"There was no prior consultation and agreement between us before we adopted our respective policies of non-alignment."

In the first place, Belgrade did pass a resolution which in its nature constitutes those who accepted it as a bloc and which, despite Khrushchev's shooting off nuclear weapons to no purpose, left the delegates without a word to say against Khrushchev and his bombs.

This silence violates decency and makes it an impudence on the part of Sukarno to come to the United States to plead with President Kennedy to meet with Khrushchev. Sukarno is a fanatical demagogue who can attack every country except Soviet Russia and Red China of which he lives in fear. Read this paragraph:

"Have no fear, gentlemen. We are not children. We know a colonialist when we see one. We shall deal as effectively with new colonialism as we have dealt with and are dealing with the old ones. Do not try to divert our attention from the present cancers racking our bodies. Rid the world of these festering sores — Algeria, West Iran, Angola, Bizerta! — and we have no fear. We shall be well steered in the battle against colonialism in its purest form. We shall be well equipped to deal with any new imperialism that may try to raise its ugly head."

But what does he say about Soviet imperialism? What does he say of Red China's conquest of Tibet and of the Red Chinese movement into Nepal, Sikkim and other Indian countries; or into North Vietnam and North Korea? About all this, he is silent.

What sort of a neutralist is this? How can he face the United States when he is incapable of a balanced truth? The world faces a war of extinction and this politician speaks of West Iran as though it really mattered to anyone. Should war come, neither Sukarno nor the whole of Indonesia will be able to hold West Iran, nor, for that matter, will the Dutch. For the great tragedy of the oncoming conflict is that it will leave the weaker and smaller nations without power or purpose and perhaps even with no place to seek refuge.

But this is Sukarno's program for the future: "What, then, is the way to solve burning present-day issues? Where the conflict of the old interest and the emerging forces has become very acute and explosive, we must, as a first step, accept the status quo. As a second step, we must accept the principle of peaceful co-existence, not only in words but also in deeds. Do not beg the issues by standing stubbornly by previously adopted positions in order to 'save face.' The aim must be to find an acceptable solution around the negotiating table, so as to save the world from extinction."

Curiously, this turns out to be Khrushchev's program. Therefore Sukarno offers, as a neutralist, Khrushchev's solution of the German question as his, Sukarno's solution. These are his words:

So this moralist has reached the conclusion that might is right and that as Soviet Russia not only possesses but uses might, the world must go along with Khrushchev because whoever uses power is right. It is such men who are disturbing the peace of the world.

'How Will I Keep Him Out - How - Howrr?'

GOP Should Perform As Party Of Opposition

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Republican Party has fallen down badly as the party of opposition in the last several months.

Meanwhile, the Kennedy publicity apparatus is functioning effectively with all the benefits that an incumbent in the White House naturally can derive in taking advantage of his position as the chief news maker of the day.

The fault on the Republican side, to be sure, is not with any individual but with the system, which also has plagued the Democrats at times when they were the party out of power.

The two men, for instance, who today seem to have the largest number of supporters for the Republican nomination in 1964 are not even in Washington these days, except for occasional visits.

Right now, former Vice President Nixon is considering whether he will run for Governor of California. To take that office would be a mistake if he really wants the Republican presidential nomination in 1964. For he cannot possibly keep in close contact with national affairs while preoccupied with local affairs at the state capital in Sacramento. The argument made vehemently in his favor throughout the 1960 campaign was that he had played an intimate part in the activities of the executive as well as legislative branch of the national government for eight years. This talking point about "experience" will diminish in value for him to a large extent by 1964, when Mr. Kennedy's actual experience with world problems from 1961 to 1964 will become his big asset against either Governor Rockefeller or Mr. Nixon if the latter is nominated and elected Governor of California.

The situation would seem to call for an unusual kind of remedy. It requires the organization of a "loyal opposition" patterned somewhat on the British system. If a group of Republican voters who are devoted supporters of

Mr. Nixon wish to see him elected president in 1964, they could contribute relatively small sums each year to finance a "Citizens for Nixon" organization which would pay Mr. Nixon's living expenses and office needs in Washington. A working staff could be set up of men experienced in the various departments of government. In fact, by the creation of an "alternate" department of state and an equivalent unit for each of the other executive departments, the country could be kept advised from week to week as to what is really going on in their government. The opposition viewpoint, expressed through speeches in Congress, is presented intermittently of course, but rarely are there any alternate programs offered and widely distributed in a comprehensive form to the voters.

Mr. Nixon belongs in Washington at the head of such an organization. Another one just like it could be established here by the friends and supporters of Governor Rockefeller, who, instead of running for re-election in New York in 1962, could devote himself to working every day in Washington as part of a "loyal opposition." Cooperation between two or more such organizations

CONGRESS CAREFUL — For many years, the federal government has been hampered in its selection of ambassadors to other capitals by the unwillingness of Congress to provide sufficient funds for their upkeep.

This has made the selection of ambassadors limited in many instances to wealthy men who have the means to keep themselves in the style required, but not necessarily the other qualities that make for a good diplomat.

One of the principal items for which Congress has been charity in providing funds is the so-called "representation allowance." This is the money required for necessary entertainment at a U. S. embassy abroad. Some members of Congress irreverently call it the "booze allowance."

When President Kennedy came into office he announced that he wanted to put professional diplomats — who didn't necessarily have personal fortunes — into more of the sensitive ambassadorial posts around the world. But to do this, Kennedy said, Congress would have to be liberal with the representation allowance provided to the State Department.

Well, you may be happy to learn that everything has worked out to Kennedy's and the diplomats' satisfaction. Congress has provided $33,000 of the $82,000 increase requested in the allowance, and the State Department says this will be adequate for a start.

The department says that this increase, along with some self-instituted economies, should provide U. S. ambassadors with enough funds to maintain essential contacts without dipping into their own pockets.

However, it does seem a shame that with the billions being spent for defense, this kind of a fight should have to be made in order to clear the way financially for the selection of professional diplomats for sensitive posts.

President's Advisors Badly Split Over Approach To Berlin Situation

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The sessions between Secretary of State Rusk and Foreign Minister Gromyko in New York this week are the culmination of a long hassle inside the Kennedy Administration over Berlin. There is evidence that a similar hassle has been going on inside the Kremlin.

The opposing influences in both countries are between those who lean toward preventive war and those who believe with ex-President Eisenhower that there is "no alternative to peace."

The inside story of what happened inside the Kennedy Administration can now be told. What probably happened inside the Kremlin will be told later.

Beginning as early as last January, Kennedy was urged by some of his close friends and advisers to take the initiative with Khrushchev regarding Berlin. Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, a moderate Republican, had been in Moscow in December, talked with Gromyko, Deputy Premier Mikoyan, and others; came back to report that they would sign a peace treaty with East Germany come what may. They told him they had waited long enough for the United States.

Senator Cooper, who is a good friend of Kennedy's and jined with him immediately after his inauguration, reported all this in detail. He advised the President that the situation would not wait, that European opinion generally agreed that 16 years was long enough to wait after a war to sign a peace treaty with Germany. He suggested that the new administration begin with a clean broom by taking the initiative away from Moscow, and call for Berlin talks.

Rusk Says No

Simultaneously Adlai Stevenson told the new President pretty much the same thing. At that time Khrushchev had made various gestures friendly to the United States and Stevenson advised that the time was ripe to make "some new starts toward peace." Khrushchev had wanted to send a special ambassador of cabinet rank to Kennedy's inauguration—which the President-elect vetoed. Khrushchev had also sent a glowing cable of congratulations, one of the most fulsome he had ever sent to any head of state. And immediately after the inauguration he released the RB-47 fliers.

Stevenson, after a talk with Kennedy, was asked by newsmen in New York whether Kennedy would see Khrushchev if K came to New York for the next UN meeting. Stevenson replied that he thought he would.

This brought an immediate and official denial from White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger. Behind it was the group of Kennedy's stand-pat advisers on Berlin.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had taken the lead in vetoing Stevenson's suggestion that the new President take the initiative in moving for a final peace treaty with Germany, and Kennedy felt he could not go over the head of his Secretary of State.

But behind Rusk was Dean Acheson, former Secretary of State, on whom Kennedy was leaning heavily for advice on NATO and Berlin. And siding with Acheson and Rusk was "Chip Bohlen, former Ambassador to Moscow, now special adviser on Russian affairs.

"Dear Dad," Ginny writes, "the second honeymoon of the Frechettes is over and we're leaving by jet this afternoon. The man at the United convent assured Charlie that we will not have the same set of stewardesses and now I feel better. I couldn't face them after the trip out. They looked so handsome when the trip started. When we landed in Los Angeles they were wrecks."

"After all, when you take four children on a honeymoon, and all are three years of age and under, no one can expect them to sit still. The twins (Grandfather's note: Robin and Pamela, age 3) raced up and down the aisle and Pam kept asking the stewardess to make the plane 'go faster.'"

"Another stewardess made the mistake of carrying Kevin (note: 1 year of age) plus a box of crackers. Somehow, the baby managed to get those crumbs inside her uniform. Jimmy (Note: age 2) looked out the window all the way and kept grinning at the United States, far below."

"Still, it was all such fun that I would start again in a minute. I want my kids with me all the time, no matter how loud the bedlam. We made a spur of the moment flight to Las Vegas. You should have seen the faces on the room clerks at The Sands when we checked in with our troops."

"Charlie played blackjack and won $36. We rented a car in Hollywood, and one in Las Vegas and another when we got back to Los Angeles. By the time we stepped into the third one, Robin said: 'This one dirty too?' They're too young to remember this memorable trip, but I don't care."

"Just before we went to Vegas, Jimmy got the mumps so, if any of the local gamblers catch it, call me Typhoid Mary. In Hollywood we stayed at the Carlton Lodge Motel, complete with kitchen, swimming pool, and 2 TV sets. Pam kept mumbling: 'This is my house.'"

"We went to see Jayne Mansfield. She's a wild one, but always so cordial and friendly at home. I went there to see the mansion with the heart-shaped pool. Charlie, I think, went to see Jayne, Mickey Hargitay stuck around to watch Charlie watching Jayne."

"One of the high spots, for all of us, was at Twentieth Century Fox. Your friend Harry Brand set everything up for us. He has a man (I don't think you've met him) named David Cantor, who took us everywhere. We got into the Fox commissary for lunch and saw John Wayne across the room."

"Miss Tuesday Weld came in and, while I was looking at her, Kevin walked across the room with a box of crackers. It was like a game of hare and hounds. We got out fast."

"Like tourists, we got a map of where to find the homes of the

Their advice was that Chancellor Adenauer, leader of West Germany, plus the whole NATO Alliance would be seriously weakened, by any compromise on Berlin.

"Take The Initiative"

Meanwhile, Sen. William Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and a power in the Senate, had urged the new President to announce that the Berlin situation needed changing and to take the lead himself. Then he would not appear to be pushed by Khrushchev.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Democratic leader of the Senate, advised likewise, and made an important speech suggesting Berlin as an independent city under the protection of the United Nations. Chester Bowles, Under Secretary of State, lined up with the Stevenson-Fulbright-Mansfield group and so did Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson when he was finally called home from Moscow.

However, the new President, busy with his domestic program and inheriting some of the toughest problems ever handed a new President — Berlin, Laos, and Cuba — waited.

Meanwhile events went against him. He took a setback in Laos, suffered a disastrous defeat over Cuba, and only then, six months after the inauguration, when he was in a seriously weakened position, did he meet with Khrushchev in Vienna.

At Vienna, Khrushchev took the initiative which Kennedy advisers had urged him to take. He slapped the new President with an aide memoire warning that he intended to sign a new peace treaty with Germany before the year 1961 was over—whether the United States agreed or not.

The President handled himself with dignity and restraint. But time and events were running against him. He was negotiating from a position of weakness, not strength. That is still the basic difficulty Secretary Rusk faces as he meets with Foreign Minister Gromyko today.

Rest Best Treatment For Minor Sore Throat

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A minor sore throat seldom requires treatment in a person who usually enjoys good health. The best advice is to lay low two or three days.

This means eight or nine hours of sleep at night, limited social activities, and minimizing the use of tobacco and alcohol. An aspirin or two relieves distress and permits rest. Steam inhalations often help.

Mouth washes and gargling have been promoted for years as an aid for minor infections. Startling claims are made for such remedies if the mouth contains fewer germs after their use. But rinsing the mouth and gargling with ordinary tap water usually reduce the number of oral bacteria, showing that the effect of gargling is mechanical.

Heat also is a factor. Gargling with hot water is more effective than with tepid or cold water.

The cleansing action usually comes from the rinsing. In other words, "You pays your money and takes your choice." If an expensive gargle makes the throat feel better than ordinary water — then keep it up.

Gargles seldom touch the strep sore throat, which requires approximately 10 days of therapy with an antibiotic such as penicillin. This treatment is recommended especially when the person has high fever, feels toxic, and finds swallowing painful. The same applies to those with a history of rheumatic fever or other ailments triggered by the streptococcus.

How do we know whether the germs producing the sore throat are due to streptococci, staphylococci, diplococci, or viruses? The surest way is to have the secretions examined in a laboratory. On the other hand, the physician may be able to determine the culprit with a fair degree of accuracy by looking at the throat.

You should get well since the loss is confined to sweets. There is no harm in giving up sweets as taste will return when your emotional attitude changes.

The 20th Century Minute Men who help defend America

Since 1941, thousands of folks in advertising, communications, and entertainment have pooled their talents to make U.S. Savings Bonds a household word

The first Minute Men put down their guns in 1783 after winning independence for themselves and their Nation.

In 1941 a new breed of Minute Men came to the aid of their country to help sell U.S. Savings Bonds. These were the actors, singers and musicians who entertained in behalf of Bonds all over the world, backed up by thousands of people in America's advertising agencies, newspapers, magazines, radio, television, outdoor and transit media.

A $50 million budget—free

Put all the Savings Bond advertising on a dollar basis and it would approach $50 million a year—a bigger advertising budget than most of the country's largest manufacturers. The total for 20 years of the Bond Program is estimated at $1.3 billion in free space, time and services.

This amount is swelled every day an uncountable amount by the folks in "show business." Yet not one penny of this cost is paid by the government or the taxpayers.

The built-in features

U.S. Savings Bonds are guaranteed safe by Uncle Sam—and guaranteed to grow in value. They pay 3½% interest when held to maturity. You can't lose your equity—your Bonds are replaced if destroyed or stolen. You can get your money back anytime you want it—with interest.

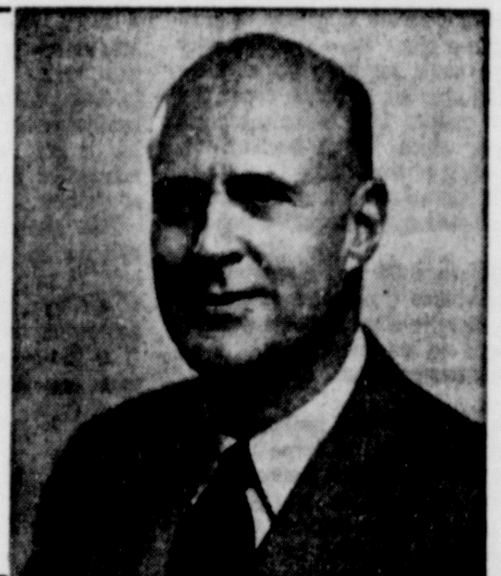

Every Bond you buy is a share in a stronger America. Come to your country's aid—and your own—now.

"The Advertising Council is proud of its role,"

says Theodore Repplier,
President, The Advertising Council

"Everyone in the advertising and entertainment fields and allied industries who has been involved with the U.S. Savings Bond Program will tell you what a rewarding experience it has been. We're proud of our part in the Bond Program which has helped Americans become owners of $43 billion in Bonds today."

3,000 W. Va. Guardsmen To Go On Duty With Army

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—About 3,000 West Virginia Army National Guardsmen will go on active duty with the Army Oct. 15.

They are all members of units attached to the 150th Armored Cavalry Regiment. The entire regiment was ordered mobilized Tuesday. State Adj. Gen. Gene Hal Williams said he had not been informed yet where the 150th would report for training.

In addition, two more West Virginia Army Reserve units, at Huntington and Parkersburg, were ordered to active duty on the same date. Earlier, a National Guard unit at Ft. Pleasant not attached to the 150th, along with two other Army Reserve units, at Ft. Pleasant and Martinsburg, were ordered mobilized, all effective Oct. 1.

There are 17 other Army National Guard units not affected by the mobilization. They are not attached to the 150th, whose commander is Col. Daniel D. Holliday, Beckley.

All 150th-units, which only 13 days ago were alerted for possible call-up when the Defense Department ordered intensified home-station training are included in the general mobilization. They include two units each at Charleston, South Charleston, Bluefield and Moundsville and one each in these cities: St. Albans, Montgomery, Dunbar, Beckley, Richwood, Roncove, Morgantown, Clarksburg, Gassaway, Buckhannon, Spencer, Logan, Welch, Princeton, Oak Hill and Hinton.

Williams himself and others attached to the Guard's state Headquarters & Headquarters detachment at the capitol are not affected.

Army reserve units activated were the 88th Adjutant General (Army Postal) unit at Huntington and the 371st Medical Detachment (blood bank bleeding), Parkersburg.

In addition, three Reserve units — at Clarksburg, Morgantown and Romney — were alerted for possible future call-up.

Earlier, the National Guard's 3664th Ordnance company at Ft. Pleasant was ordered activated effective Oct. 1. These men will go to Fort Polk, La., for training.

Army Reserve units also previously ordered up Oct. 1 were the 812th Ordnance Company, Ripley, and the 351st Ordnance Company, Martinsburg. They will train at Fort Knox, Ky.

It was disclosed at the time of a Sept. 6 alert for the 150th units to get ready for possible call that the regiment was at 71 per cent of manpower authorization.

The Defense Department, at that time, authorized the units to come up to full strength, but stipulated that only men with previous service could be accepted as new members.

Holliday said at Beckley that the 150th "will be ready" when the time comes.

Some Need Equipment

The callup is effective in less than a month but Holliday said

FROSTBURG—Frostburg Mayor and City Council passed a resolution at their meeting this week extending Daylight Savings time for Frostburg until October 29. This was done in absence of early action by the county commissioners. Cumberland Council passed a like resolution Monday.

Kenneth Crowe, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission for Frostburg, will be asked by council to proceed with the activation of his committee and begin work for which the committee was organized.

Frank Lewis, Civil Service coordinator for Frostburg, resigned his position. Robert Thomas, Linden Street, was appointed by the council to succeed Lewis.

Maris Fails To Hit Homer As Yanks, Orioles Split Double-Header

New Yorkers Clinch Tie For AL Flag

Bombers Win, 3-1, After Steve Barber Hurls Shutout, 1-0

By OSCAR FRALEY
BALTIMORE (UPI)—Allotted time almost ran out for Roger Maris, in his pursuit of Babe Ruth's record Tuesday night although the New York Yankees clinched a tie for the American League pennant by splitting a doubleheader with the Baltimore Orioles.

The chalk-faced Maris brought his total of 58 homers—two behind Ruth's record 60—into the Bambi's own hometown and the thunder of his big stick was muted as the Orioles took the opener, 1-0, and the Yankees clinched a tie for their 26th flag by capturing the finale, 3-1.

Thus, grim, tight-lipped Maris needs two to tie and three to break the Babe's 34-year-old record in Wednesday's 154th game if he is to do it in the span decreed by Commissioner Ford Frick. Yet, he has eight more games after that, due to expansion, to wipe out Ruth's most glamorous mark before season's end.

Gets One Single
Nine times Maris marched to the plate this chilly, gloomy night before 31,317 home-run hungry fans and when it was over he still stood tied with such storied sluggers of the past as Jimmy Foxx and Hank Greenberg at the 58 mark. The net result of those hopeful journeys was a single, a walk and seven outs.

There were two home runs in the second game—a solo by Oriole Ron Hansen and a two-run blast by Moose Skowron which won the second game and boosted the Yankees' all-time one-season record to 229 homers. But they were to left field with the wind in their favor. The Yankees, who now need one victory or a defeat for second-place Detroit to win their latest flag, were throttled in the opener by fireballing Steve Barber as the 22-year-old left-hander scored his 17th victory against 11 defeats with a four-hit shutout.

It was his eighth shutout of the season and conquered Whitey Ford, seeking his 25th win as the stubby Yankee yielded seven hits and suffered his fourth defeat. The Orioles gave Barber, who faced Maris with the flip pregame observation that "This means more to him than it does to me," one run in the first inning and that was all he needed. Leadoff man Brooks Robinson singled to left and took second on Hector Lopez' error. Jerry Adair sent him racing home with the game's only run with a double.

Daley Is Victor
Left-hander Bud Daley took the final for his 12th win against 17 losses for the Yankees with a five-hitter marred only by Hansen's homer. The loser was Skinny Brown, suffering his sixth loss against wins as the Yankees clobbered him for 12 blows.

But Skinny, replaced by knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth, went out there with the observation that as far as Maris was concerned, "this is just another ball game."

Maris gave them all one big thrill in the seventh when, with one out, he hit a 2-2 pitch high up into the right field stands—foul by a matter of yards. But, then it was over, and the Babe still held that two-homer bulge.

May Be Worst
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The educated estimate of professional football men is that the Washington Redskins may have the worst pro team ever to compete in the National grid league—at least in the post-war years.

This is the team that the San Francisco Forty Niners waxed on Sunday by a 35-3 score without working up a sweat.

Twins Defeat Senators, 3-1

Kaat Is Winner Over Joe McClain

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lefty Jim Kaat set down the Washington Senators with six hits Tuesday night in pitching the Minnesota Twins to a 3-1 victory.

The Twins hopped on Joe McClain for two runs in the second inning on a double by Earl Battey, a triple by Bob Allison, and a single by Zoilo Versalles.

McClain retired 11 batters in a row from the third inning to the seventh when the Twins got to him for another run. That one came on a single by Allison, a single to right by Bill Tuttle that sent Allison to third, and Versalles' second run-scoring single. The Senators scored in the sixth inning on a double by Chuck Cottier and a single by Gene Green.

Leadoff man Brooks Robinson singled to left and took second on Hector Lopez' error. Jerry Adair sent him racing home with the game's only run with a double.

Portland Tourney To Open Thursday
PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Billy Casper, twice winner of the Portland Open at the Portland Golf Club Course, showed the boys Monday that he'll be a threat at this year's $25,000 event at Columbia-Edgewater.

Casper fired a five-under par 67 in a practice round as the pro golfers began tuning up for the 72-hole open starting Thursday. Among the others practicing were Mike Souchak, who is rejoining the pro tour after being sidelined with an arm injury, and Jerry Barber, playoff winner of the 1961 PGA crown.

Harry Craft Named Manager At Houston

Former K.C. Pilot Picked By Richards

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Houston Colt General Manager Paul Richards Tuesday night named veteran Harry Craft as manager of the new Houston Colts of the National League.

Craft, currently manager of the Houston Buffs of the American Association and former manager of the Kansas City Athletics, was given a one-year contract.

Craft began the 1962 season as a coach with the Chicago Cubs. He took over at Houston on July 16 and lifted the Buffs from fifth place on the American Association to the finals of the league playoffs.

He began his professional playing career in 1935 and played six seasons with the Cincinnati Reds as a center fielder. Craft is 46 years old.

After ending his playing career in 1948, Craft managed minor league clubs until 1955 when he joined Kansas City as a coach. Craft coached for the Athletics until Aug. 6, 1957, when he was named manager of the A's.

His Athletics finished seventh in each of the three seasons he managed. Craft began the 1962 season as a coach with the Chicago Cubs. He took over at Houston on July 16 and lifted the Buffs from fifth place on the American Association to the finals of the league playoffs.

Nugent Calls SMU "Hungry" Football Team

Maryland Players In Good Condition

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Coach Tom Nugent of the University of Maryland said Tuesday he was concerned with Saturday's game against Southern Methodist, not only because it's the season opener, but because the Mustangs had a losing season last year.

"They're a hungry team," Nugent told a press conference. "And we know what it's like. Remember, we lost three in a row last year."

SMU's record in 1960 was 0-9-1. But the Mustangs played six teams that played in post-season bowl games plus highly rated Ohio State.

Nugent, a sound believer in the philosophy of firing his team up before each game, said a lot depends on the spirit of the Texans. "If they have the good talent I believe they have, and their morale is good, we're in for one heckava ball game."

The Terp coach said his team was in sound physical condition with the possible exception of number two right halfback Tom Brown.

"Brown has a knee injury and is in the infirmary. There is a 50-50 chance he will go to Texas and if he goes, we intend to use him," Nugent said.

"He had a similar injury before the Clemson game last year, but he played and had a good day."

Fullback Pat Drass was taken off the injury list, Nugent said, and will run behind Joe Hrezo on offense. Harry Butsko will play behind Hrezo on defense.

Nugent also said he will hold a night practice Tuesday.

Archer Blanks Cleveland, 6-0

K.C. Wins Opener Of Double Bill

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Jim Archer pitched the Kansas City Athletics to a 6-0 victory over the Indians Tuesday night in the first game of a two-night doubleheader.

It was Archer's ninth victory against 13 defeats. Dick Stigman started for the Indians and gave up five of the Athletics' runs. Bobby Del Greco tagged him for his fourth home run of the season in the third inning.

The Athletics scored two in the second with Wayne Causey's double the big blow. In the eighth they scored a pair on three hits with Norm Siebern's double and Dick Howser's single driving in the runs. They scored their final run in the ninth as Causey doubled, went to third on Joe Pignatano's single and scored on Jerry Lumpe's sacrifice fly.

CLEVELAND (UPI)—The Cleveland Indians split a two-night doubleheader with the Kansas City Athletics Tuesday night, winning the nightcap, 6-2, after being blanked, 6-0, by Jim Archer in the first game.

Gary Bell was the winner for the Tribe, fanning 10 batters as he gained his 11th victory against 15 defeats.

Valmy Thomas and rookie Harold Jones hit their first home runs of the season for the Indians in the nightcap.

Old Germans Eliminated In Softball Tournament

Ritter's Win, 2-0; Bennett's Cop 2nd Over Wiley Ford, 5-3

The Cumberland Old Germans Rec Softball League playoff champions, were eliminated from the second annual Western Maryland Softball Tournament last night when they bowed to Ritter's A. C., 2-0, in the nightcap of a tourney twin bill staged at Penn Avenue field.

Beaten 3-1 in their opener by Hyndman's Vets, Manager Jim Dunn's Old Germans lost their second straight in the double elimination tournament when Glenn Kauffman outdueled Ernie Condon in a low-hit contest to give Ritter's its first triumph in the losers' bracket. Ritter's dropped its opener, 5-1, to the Redmen.

Ritter's tallied in the first inning when a walk, a single by Vern Shrout and an error by second baseman Brindle Long produced a run. Freed Meek's home run in the seventh accounted for the winners' second score.

Kauffman allowed the Old Germans four scattered singles and struck out four. He walked three. Condon, bowing for the second time in the tournament, allowed only three hits, whiffed seven and walked three.

In the opening game in the winners' bracket, Bennett's Transfer copped its second straight victory, a 5-3 triumph over Wiley Ford.

The loss was the first for Wiley Ford which had beaten Celanese, 8-3, in the opening round. Bennett's also defeated the Keyser Old Germans, 7-1.

Neil Toey hurled an eight-hitter to stop Wiley Ford with Dick Sites' two-run double in the first inning the only damaging blow. Bennett's obtained six scattered singles off loser Bill Kenney but broke a 3-3 tie with two runs in the fourth on singles by Bob Page, Jack Twyman and Fay Often, the latter's hit driving in both tallies.

In tonight's doubleheader at Penn Avenue the opening fray at 6 o'clock will match the Redmen and the Hyndman Vets while the 7:30 contest pits Barreille's Old Germans, 8-2 victors over Knights of Columbus against Greenpoint Inn Old Exports, winners by 6-1 over the Moose in the first round. Terps Will Have Game Televised Via Closed Circuit College Park, Md. (AP)—The Clemson-Maryland football game will be televised, via a closed circuit, at the Cole Fieldhouse on Sept. 30.

The televised Atlantic Coast Conference game will be produced by the university's Student Government Association. It is the first time in the school's history that a game has been televised to the campus on a closed circuit.

There will be four 20-foot by 14-foot screens in the Cole Fieldhouse for the event. Ben Pettee, chairman of the committee handling the arrangements, said if a large enough crowd turns out for the game, six screens will be installed.

Bill Barnes, head football coach at UCLA, and his chief assistant, Deke Brackett, both attended the University of Tennessee.

Georgia Tech has had only three football coaches since 1904. They are John W. Heisman (1904-19), Bill Alexander (1920-44) and Bobby Dodd (1945-present).

Virginia is the only member of the eight team Atlantic Coast Conference that has never played in a football bowl game.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister Freeda L. Shroud, who died 4 years ago today, September 20, 1957. The flowers we place upon your grave May wither and decay But the love for her who sleeps beneath Will never fade away.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, and Sisters, Mr. and Mrs. William Potte, Mrs. Rhea Smith, and Mrs. Hilda Deter

In loving memory of my beloved daughter, Regina L. Lechler, who died 2 years ago today, Sept. 20, 1959. Sad and sudden was the call. Of one so dearly loved by all. A bitter grief, a shock severe It was to part with one so dear. We often sit and think of you And speak of how you died. To think you could not say good-bye Before you closed your eyes. For all of us you did your best. Oh God grant you Eternal Rest. Sadly Missed by Mother

Ann Landers . . .
Answers Your Problems
DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband talks in his sleep regularly. He started this about three years ago when he changed jobs.
He speaks distinctly and I can understand every word he says.
Usually he is talking to the girls in his office, calling them by name and asking them to bring out certain files. Sometimes he dictates complete letters.
Some mornings he wakes up tired and I say it's no wonder—he has done a day's work between midnight and 7 a. m.
Do sleep-talkers get a good night's rest? Sometimes I worry about him. Thanks for any information you can give me.
— EMILY

DEAR EMILY: It sounds as if your husband is getting more rest than you are. Sleep-talkers get as good a night's rest as the silent ones, so don't worry about him.
Be grateful that he speaks distinctly. Some women who write tell me that their husbands mumble — and it drives them crazy.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a mature woman, 26, and it's humiliating to have to write away for help.
For a year Mr. X and I have been keeping steady company.
He's attractive, a solid citizen, and I thought reasonably sensible. Three weeks ago he asked if he could bring an old school buddy along on a dinner date. I said "Fine." The buddy turned out to be an attractive redhead who moved here from Cincinnati and "doesn't know anyone."

He has brought her along on every date since and I'm ready to crack up. She doesn't play up to him, just keeps thanking me for being sweet about her tagging along. I'm so annoyed that one word from you and I'd drop him.
But wouldn't that be playing into his hands?

City Units Hold Conference On Job Pay Plan

Early Decision Seen Possible

Mutual problems in connection with a proposed new wage classification plan for the City of Cumberland were discussed by the Mayor and Council and the Civil Service Commission at an amicable conference in City Hall yesterday.

The classification program which was recently referred to the commission was prepared by Milton B. Millon, director of the Municipal Technical Advisory Service of the University of Maryland, and includes a proposal for a longevity pay plan.

The job classification plan was based on a professional job study made here this summer by the Department of Employment Security.

Conferences Held

There were indications from the meeting that an early decision may be reached on the program after Mr. Millon reviews and prepares recommendations as a result of conferences held with several commissioners regarding classification problems in their departments.

It was pointed out that the job study made here by George Widman, chief job analyst, and Miss Elizabeth Kennedy, job analyst for the DES, was made in a fair and professional manner.

Results of the job study were sent to Mr. Millon's office, which established the relative position of the jobs done by the city's 270 regular employees according to their duties and responsibilities.

The plan based on such professional study, it was pointed out, provides an opportunity for the City of Cumberland to get its job classification program off on the right foot.

Any change in the plan, it was stressed, should be made now, and not after adoption, so the system will have a fair chance to work.

The longevity plan which was proposed is an attempt to recognize service to the city. It provides for percentage increases for service after workers have reached the top salaries under the wage classification plan.

Changes Asked

The city adopted a wage classification and merit pay plan for its salaried and hourly paid employees on July 1, 1960.

In its annual report, the commission pointed out that after the Mayor and Council had adopted Civil Service recommendations to correct some errors and inequities found in the original classification ordinance, a flood of requests for reclassifications prompted the commission to ask the city to forego any requests for reclassification for at least a year, or until the plan had a chance to prove itself.

Job Study Asked

The result of this recommendation was the request of the Mayor and Council, with the approval of the commission, that the Department of Employment Security make a complete job study of the work performed by all city employees.

Present were the Mayor and Council, the Civil Service Commission, Mr. Millon, Mr. Widman, Miss Kennedy, City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery. City Comptroller Arthur B. Gibson represented Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder, who was unable to attend due to a prior commitment.

The Allegany County Commission on the Problems of the Aging will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Allegany County Court House.

A preliminary report will be presented on progress made to date on the survey of the needs of this area's aging, according to Dr. Robert W. Current, president.

Dr. Current said Mrs. Mildred Bruce, president of the health units, has reported that members are making excellent progress on the survey.

The commission hopes to secure interviews with about 850 of the county's citizens who are 65 or older so it may learn in detail the problems and needs of the aging.

To make the survey, the commission has prepared a questionnaire which is to be filled in by all who wish to participate in the study.

The information will be strictly confidential, and the only designation placed on the questionnaires will be the area.

The commission hopes to complete the study this fall and to guide its future activities.

The results will also be sent to the state commission on problems of the aging.

Men Ordered Held For Jury In Holdup Here

J. Milton Dick Makes Identification

Two young New Hampshire men yesterday were ordered held for action of the October grand jury of Allegany County in the armed robbery of a local liquor store last March.

The men, Edmund Vallee, 25, and Leonard Burnor, 23, were ordered held for grand jury action following a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

They were ordered committed to the County Jail in default of $5,000 bond each.

County authorities returned the men here September 9 to face charges in the armed robbery of J. Milton Dick, owner and operator of the Allegany Liquor Store at the corner of Frederick Street and Henderson Avenue.

Mr. Dick was the only witness for the state at the hearing yesterday. He identified the two men as the ones who held him up with pistols last March and took approximately $150.

Police in Manchester, N. H., arrested the two men following a tip by a girl who said she was with them when they staged the holdup here.

Extradition proceedings were started months ago by State's Attorney James S. Getty and the two men were ordered returned here for prosecution.

Another girl involved in the case also will be returned here as a material witness.

Mr. Getty presented the state's case yesterday and Thomas N. Berry, local attorney, represented both defendants.

County Extends Daylight Time Another Month

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday "backtracked" and passed a resolution extending Daylight Saving Time until Sunday, October 29 at 2 a. m.

A resolution which was prepared by Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the board, stated that it was approved "nunc pro tunc" or "now for then", September 5.

The commissioners decided on the action because other cities and counties in Maryland and other sections of the United States have made the same extension and it is therefore necessary to make the extension in Allegany County to prevent inconvenience and annoyance to the commercial, economic and social affairs of the residents here.

The City of Cumberland Monday took the matter into its own hands and officially extended the "fast time" period for the area within the city limits. Monday night the town of Frostburg took similar action.

City Zoning Board To Hear Appeals

The Board of Zoning Appeals will meet tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the City Hall for hearings on three appeals.

Petty, who has requested a permit to occupy a dwelling at 531 Louisiana Avenue as a doctor's office, and Mrs. John Sloan, who has made application to build a one-story dwelling on Lots 146 and 147 Dryer Avenue.

Library Association Plans Regional Meeting Oct. 27

A regional meeting of the Maryland Library Association will be held at the new Frostburg Library on October 27, Dr. Adam Baer, chairman of the Allegany County Library Board of Trustees announced.

At a meeting of the library board in the Court House, Dr. Baer said all members of the board are invited to attend this session, which will include a luncheon at Salem Reformed Church at noon.

There will be representatives of libraries and library boards from Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Allegany counties. Baltimore and other counties also have been invited to be represented. Representatives of the State Library Department also will attend.

At the monthly board meeting, Dr. Baer said it was decided to classify all the personnel in the county library and its branches and to set up salary scales, working hours and duties, so that the county system will conform to the state plan for library operation. Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, was authorized to employ an administrative assistant to take care of much of the detail work, routine and organization at the main library and branches.

Miss Walsh reported that demand for books from the Bookmobile is increasing steadily and that more patrons are being added to the library system. She also reported that a number of new books have arrived, including technical books requested by some of the industries here for use of their personnel.

Work is under way on remodeling the front of the library annex building. County Commissioner John T. Mason, a member of the library board, said the old porch has been removed and new steps are being added to the entrance. The front of the building is to be repainted and the structure is expected to be more attractive and safer.

Miss Walsh said the improvement in the library building has increased efficiency to a great degree and that it has been well received by the library's many patrons.

The next meeting of the library trustees will be held at the Court House at 7:30 p. m. October 16.

Man Guilty In Jobless Pay Fraud

A 26-year-old Flintstone man was fined $200 and was given a 60-day suspended jail sentence yesterday after he was found guilty of making false statements to obtain unemployment benefits.

The man, Edward D. Whorton, pleaded guilty to the charge at a hearing in Trial Magistrate Court conducted by Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

Whorton was charged with making false statements to obtain $246 in benefits for six different weeks between April 7, 1960 and June 2, 1960.

Magistrate Barnett gave Whorton 30 days in which to pay the fine and suspended the jail term on condition he make restitution within six months.

Deputy State's Attorney Donald W. Mason prosecuted the case and pointed out that during the period Whorton received unemployment compensation he had actually earned $451.41 while working for a dry wall contractor.

Girl Scouts Area Councils To Meet Here

A meeting will be held at the Girl Scout House, Greene Street, at 10:30 a. m. September 25, to discuss plans for a new regional council, as proposed by the national headquarters of Girl Scouts.

Mrs. George Miller, past president, reported that she, Mrs. Aden Everstine, Shawnee Council president and Miss Olive Hurlburt, attended a session recently at which time the proposal was outlined. At a board meeting Monday night, the Shawnee Council directors discussed the plan but took no formal action pending the outcome of Monday's session.

Invited and expected to attend are representatives of Shawnee Council, Eastern Panhandle Council, Blue Ridge Council, Washington County Council and Frederick County Council.

National sponsors of the idea say that larger councils can do a better job in organization than the smaller councils, and that such a plan will bring scouting to more girls and will help the growth of the movement, because it will bring trained and professional leaders to areas not now covered.

There are 98 councils in Region III of which Shawnee is a part. Mrs. Miller said, and the national office hopes to work out enough consolidations to reduce the number of councils to 22 in the region.

There were board members present at this first fall meeting from all parts of the council's jurisdiction, and several policies, plans and programs were outlined in detail.

SA Man Involved In Dispute Is Transferred Here

WELLSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — A Salvation Army officer, recently involved in a controversy over the distribution of government food handouts to two families of the Jehovah's Witness sect, will be transferred to Cumberland, Md., Oct. 1.

The transfer disclosed Tuesday is an apparent outgrowth of the dispute in which Paul Messenger allegedly refused to give the two families surplus food last Sept. 1. The families said he told them it was because the Witnesses did not teach respect for the U. S. flag.

The Jehovah's Witness organization here denied its members taught disrespect for the flag. Messenger's action followed what he said was an earlier request by some JW members for him to remove a flag from the Salvation Army hall where the surplus food is distributed.

Hampshire Judge Imposes Term

Brother Ginevan, 27, of the Pin Oak section of Hampshire County, W. Va., yesterday was sentenced to five to 20 years for the rape of an 11-year-old girl last June.

A Hampshire County Circuit Court jury found Ginevan guilty of the rape charge on September 6, but recommended mercy.

Judge H. G. Muntzing, who presided at the two-day trial, imposed the sentence on Ginevan and recommended the jail term be served at the medium security prison at Huttonsville.

Ginevan was arrested on June 11 by West Virginia State Police and charged with raping the young girl who had been attending a festival at the Levels School.

The young girl was attacked after she became separated from her mother at the festival.

The jury deliberated about two hours following the two-day trial, in which 14 witnesses testified.

Loudon L. Thompson prosecuted the case for Hampshire County and Ralph W. Haines was the defense attorney.
